10. STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE
Railway House Narrogin (fmr), a single storey brick and iron house in the Federation Bungalow style built as one of three identical homes for senior staff of the WAGR in the town, has cultural heritage significance for the following reasons:
 - the place is a fine example of a substantial house in the Federation Bungalow style constructed of local Narrogin bricks with many distinctive features including a gracious central living room with faceted bay window on the southern side of the building;
 - the place, is one of three stately homes constructed in the regional centre of Narrogin for senior employees of the WAGR;
 - the place represents the period in the early twentieth century during which the town of Narrogin developed from a small country town into a regional rail centre;

the place, together with the two adjacent identical former Railway Department houses, forms a visually integrated streetscape of early twentieth setting in the town of Narrogin; and, the place contributes to the Narrogin community's sense of place because it forms part of the railway centre infra-structure which was crucial to the development of the town of Narrogin in the twentieth century.
