10. STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

House at 10 Turner Street a single-storey brick residence, has cultural heritage significance for the following reasons:

it is a picturesque dwelling forming part of the elevated and vegetated townscape backdrop to the City of Bunbury formed by the 'Kings Table' hill;

the place demonstrates the turn-of-the-century expansion of the town into its suburbs, following the gradual subdivision of the historic Stirling estate (Location 26), and marking the west boundary of 'Bury Hill' the early Government Resident's property; and as a substantial residential example of the Victorian Italianate style common to the rebuilding of the nearby city centre in the turn-of-the-century gold boom era; and, it contributes to the visual coherence and historic authenticity of the 'Kings Table' mount, as a scenic backdrop to the city, an urban edge contributing to the community's sense of place in Bunbury.

The second stage modern addition and a detached garage do not form part of this assessment.
