10. STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE
Basildene Farmhouse, a two-storey stone house with modern ground floor extensions, has cultural heritage significance for the following reasons:
 - the place is highly valued by the community in its own right and for its potential tourist value;
 - the place has aesthetic value in its harmonious proportions and generous volumes;
 - the place has historic significance because of its association with several generations of the farming Willmott family;
 - the place demonstrates excellence in design and workmanship in the jarrah staircase and the large central hall; and, the building contributes to the community's sense of place.

The 1980 ground floor extensions are of little heritage significance.
