10. STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE
Globe Hotel, a classically derived three storey masonry building, originally designed in the Federation Filigree style, has cultural heritage significance for the following reasons:

the place is rare as an 1880s hotel that continued to operate with its original function until 2004, having providing accommodation, dining and bar facilities since its construction in 1884, and until 2004 was one of only three Federation period hotels associated with a railway station in the metropolitan area that provide both tavern and accommodation facilities;

the place is an integral component of a precinct of buildings from the Federation and Inter-war periods. It is important to the historic streetscapes that remain on both sides of William Street and along Wellington Street; notwithstanding the loss of its filigree verandahs, the place is a good example of a classically derived building with a simply composed front façade; and, the place is associated with the expansion and the intensive building program in the Perth central business district that occurred during the gold rush period in the 1880s and 1890s, together with the opening of the Fremantle to Guildford railway in 1881.
