10. STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE
Broomehill Shire Hall & Road Board Offices (fmr), a timber framed, iron clad hall in Federation vernacular style with a Inter-War Anglo-Dutch brick frontage, has cultural heritage significance for the following reasons:
 - the place is unusual as a iron and timber vernacular building with a substantial brick extension in Inter-War Anglo-Dutch style;
 - the place is a landmark building, prominent due to its distinctive dominant frontage of three parapeted Inter-War Anglo-Dutch gables, and location in Jasper Street, the main thoroughfare to Perth and Albany, and is an important element in the central historical precinct of Broomehill; and, the place is rare in Western Australia as a Federation-period community hall adapted in Inter-War Anglo-Dutch style for use as a roads board building.

The awning and toilet additions to the north of the building are intrusive.
