10. STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE
Millers' Bakehouse Museum, a single-storey brick and tile bakehouse building, has cultural heritage significance for the following reasons:

the place is a rare example of a working residential bakehouse which retains substantial equipment and machinery dating from the period of use as a working bakery, the place is a rare example of a working residential bakehouse constructed in the 1930s in metropolitan Perth;

the place is an example of a family business which supplied bread to the Fremantle and Palmyra area from the 1930s until its closure in 1976; and, the place is significant for the design and construction of the bread oven based on design principles developed in the mid to late nineteenth century and is one of the few remaining ovens of this type.
